ABOUT ME

Hello! I'm a Newy local with about 15 years of experience in marketing and operations, ranging from tech to global non-profits. I recently finished my dual Master's (Distinction) at UON, where I learned how to use tools like SQL and Python to find the stories behind the numbers. With my business background, I can simplify processes and tell stories that mean something to people. I'm currently helping an international non-profit share the impact of their clean water projects in Ghana, Kenya, and Uganda. I'm a lifelong learner at heart, and whether I'm writing code or coordinating an event, I'm driven by the challenge of taking a complex idea and making it clear, accessible, and impactful.

EDUCATION

Master of Business Administration / Master of Science (Data Analytics) (Graduated with Distinction)
